

Fall From P.O. Canopy Fatal To Workman

Newmarket—John Blurey, 57, died almost instantly from a fractured skull when he fell from the canopy over the steps on the north side of the post office on Friday morning. Mr. Blurey was one of a crew of men, employed by Ross Howlett, in the erection of a scaffolding about the post office tower so that it could be painted.

Arleigh Armstrong, assistant crown attorney, said that an inquest will be held Tuesday, June 8.

Mr. Blurey and Gordon Cole were on the canopy when the accident occurred. According to witnesses, a heavy plank which was being hauled to the top of the tower came loose and in falling struck the ladder from the sidewalk to the canopy. Mr. Blurey was holding onto the ladder when the plank struck it and was swept off the canopy as the ladder fell sideways towards Main St.

Dr. G. E. Case was called and gave a quick examination of the injured man before he was taken to York County hospital by the Roadhouse and Rose ambulance. Mr. Blurey was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Aurora Rec. Com. To Plan For Season

Aurora—A meeting of the representatives from the district community groups of the Aurora recreation council will be held on Thursday, June 10, at 8 p.m., in the east room, old town hall. The meeting will consider the program of the recreation commission and will deal with the financial needs and the methods of raising funds. To date the commission has been successful in securing the use of a quarter-mile straightaway for the Aurora Cycling club at the Lorne Cousins farm.

Councillor Thomas Swindle has announced that Mrs. Craig McKenzie will be in charge of the Tyler St. playground as soon as it is officially open. Mrs. McKenzie will require two helpers and Mr. Swindle would be pleased to receive volunteer help. Equipment will be installed on the Erle Quinn property where the playground is located in the near future. From the special fund for this playground it is hoped to provide one or two trips to beaches for swimming instruction this week.

Other Parties Absent From C.C.F. Forum

Newmarket—The political forum planned for last Friday night in the town hall was attended by between 40 and 50 people but it did not turn out to be a three-party forum as planned. Liberal and Progressive Conservative representatives were absent.

The local C.C.F. club, sponsors of the forum, last week sent out invitations to all candidates in the riding. The local Liberal Association gave assurances that a Liberal representative would be sent, according to the C.C.F., but no answer came from the Progressive Conservatives. Jack Dickman, the C.C.F. candidate, appeared alone.

Harold Ghent, Newmarket, chairman of the meeting, said that never before has there been so much apathy in this riding toward an election. "Sir John A. Macdonald once said that the best discussions were when the parties met face to face, so that's what we decided to do," he said.

Ross Armitage, a farmer in this district, spoke on the C.C.F. agriculture program. He said that farmers want to operate as a business instead of dumping (Page 12 Col. 5)

Joe McCulley Visits Pickering Sports Day

Newmarket—Joe McCulley, former headmaster of Pickering College, was in town over the weekend attending the annual sports day at the school. At the track field Saturday afternoon a voice on the public address system called attention to the presence of "one of the biggest old boys" in the crowd. Mr. McCulley is now deputy minister of penitentiaries and engaged in educational work for convicts.

Where To Vote In Newmarket, Aurora

In Aurora, polling booths will be at Archibald Murray's, taking in that part of town north of Wellington St. and south of Catherine and Irwin Avenues; at the east room, town hall, taking in the part south of Wellington north of Mosley, on the east side of Yonge and north of Tyler and south of Wellington on the west side of Yonge and Lot 80 on the east side of the C.N.R.; at Trinity hall, taking in south of Mosley St. on the east side of Yonge and south of Lot 80 on the east side of the C.N.R.; at H. E. Frankcom's, taking in south of Tyler on the west side of Yonge; at Wm. Saigle's taking north of Catherine and Irwin and west of Machell and north of Wellington on the west side of Yonge.

Residents who are in doubt about where to vote and procedure are advised to get in touch with party committee rooms.

Says Health Unit Delayed By Indifference

Opinion was divided at the recent York County council meetings on the formation of a health unit of the 14 municipalities north of Steele's Ave., but it was suggested that further efforts be made to arrive at a decision.

Chairman Charles Reesor, Markham, said that the indifference of East Gwillimbury, King, Markham, Vaughan and Whitchurch townships was delaying the plan which was brought out in 1947. Reeve V. Griffin, Markham, declared that council should not waste time on the matter. Reeve W. R. Scott, Woodbridge, said that lots of time is wasted on less important matters. "York claims to be the banner county, but this is one thing in which other counties have led us," he said.

Ask Investigation Of York County Police

A report of the police committee at the recent York county council meeting about Chief Constable George Stuart, York county police, and an accident in which he was involved last April, was said to create "a feeling that something is being glossed over," by Reeve L. Cockburn, Georgina.

An independent investigation of the force and an opening of the facts was asked for. Warden K. L. Thompson, Weston, a member of the police commission, said there was no doubt that the chief had suffered a slight stroke and was given leave to enable his recovery. Reeve Cockburn declared that feeling was high for an investigation of the whole matter. "Public opinion should be appraised and the whole matter aired," he said.

AN EDITORIAL

It's Your Duty

There has been a noticeable lack of enthusiasm over the provincial election day on Monday, June 7, a fact which seems to forecast a small vote. If so, it will be cause to wonder anew if the benefits of a democratic government are truly appreciated. The marking of a ballot when called upon to do so is a responsibility assumed by every citizen of a democracy. That responsibility goes hand in hand with the privileges of citizenship. You repudiate the latter when you fail to mark your ballot.

Regardless of your opinion of the political personalities or issues involved in the coming election, there is no excuse for a failure to go to the polls. If you think your vote doesn't matter, that it is only one in several thousands, remember that it takes only one vote to give a candidate a majority. If you think your vote isn't worth the trouble of casting it, remember the alternative - government by a self-perpetuating tyranny.

Around The Riding

Ross Linton, Liberal candidate for York North, will be in the Newmarket committee rooms, in the Scout hall on Saturday evening from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. to meet his friends and electors. Tonight and tomorrow night, Mr. Linton will be in the southern section of the riding, in York township. Local committee room officials say that the general feeling for Liberals is favorable. Things are quiet, and when it is quiet before an election, it is usually an unfavorable sign for the government in power, they say.

Jack H. Dickman, C.C.F. candidate, spoke to a meeting at Thornhill. The local C.C.F. club members have referred to a Progressive - Conservative pamphlet spread around the riding as "ignorant and malicious." The pamphlet has a page devoted to the Saskatchewan government under the title "Do You Know?" A. H. Woods, chairman of the riding association, said the pamphlet in misleading sentences declared the government "seized" private enterprises and operates a brick yard, tannery, shoe factory and woolen mill.

The government actually bought the brick yard and started the others itself, he said. Pensions and hospitalization are said inferior to Ontario's in the pamphlet, he said, but they do not compare to the conditions in Saskatchewan before the C.C.F. government was elected.

A meeting sponsored by the North York Women's Progressive Conservative association was held at Richmond Hill last night. Speakers were Miss Sibyl Bennett, K.C., Brampton, who outlined the advantages of the party for women, Hon. Leslie Blackwell, who spoke of the accomplishments of the Progressive Conservative government, Fred Lundy, Newmarket, ex-warden of York county, and Major A. A. Mackenzie, candidate for York North. C. A. Cathers, campaign manager, and Arthur Walwyn also spoke briefly. Mrs. Frank Hope, chairman of the Women's association, was chairman of the meeting, held at the Masonic Hall, which was filled.

Parcels 'Appreciated' Mail From U.K. Says

Newmarket—Letters have been coming from England to the Newmarket food committee expressing great appreciation for food parcels sent over. Following are some excerpts from letters sent to Jack Luck, chairman of the committee, Mrs. R. Stephens, Mrs. N. Ion and Mrs. H. Bennett.

From Olive M. Hayward, Surrey: "This area was called bomb alley during the doodle bug days and the raids of 1940. I saw the picture 'Green for Danger' and to hear the siren I still felt I should be called out. Salmon takes 32 points a tin and we each get 28 points a month. She has been a member of the Women's Volunteer Service since 1939."

Two letters came from the same family, one from the husband and the other from the wife, in hospital with T.B. They said "... it is very kind of you to think of us in England. Our nine-year-old boy has a birthday party May 17 and he wants to use the jelly for something extra."

From Lily Frandsen, Durham: "I am not a very good writer of the first letter, but I hope you will understand how we all feel here at home, about your kindness."

From R. E. Blyth, London: "... really appreciated, especially the Spam and cheese. Please convey our sincere thanks to those concerned."

From Mrs. Rex Cockerill, Yorkshire: "We are an ordinary working family living ten miles from York, in an old-fashioned village. We have four children. One boy, 22, was in the air force. I wish you could have seen their faces when the parcel came. I have often found that something would turn up when meals are short."

The candidates themselves were not at the meeting and only a few onlookers were present.

Official agent for Mr. Dickman is E. G. Dickinson, 1 Chertan Ave., Toronto; for Mr. Linton, W. H. Stoddart, 33 Catherine Ave., Aurora; and for Major Mackenzie, Frank O. Reeves, R. R. 2, Weston.

New Building Passed By County Council

At the final meeting of the York county council this week, the council passed a by-law without a dissenting voice providing $357,800 for the construction of a new county hall and office accommodation for the staff. The amount will be amortized over ten years.

Warden K. L. Thompson told the meeting that there is a fixed tender by Carter Construction Co. for $312,977 for the construction of the building, architect's fees of six percent or $18,778, and an estimated cost of furnishings of $25,000.

The new building will be located east of the present building at the corner of Church and Adelaide Sts. and will also house administration of justice and police offices.

The lease for the police offices at their old location is expiring June 30, and the present county building is badly crowded.

To Unveil Memorial On Decoration Day

Newmarket—With the memorial fund over the $2,500 mark, Newmarket Veterans' Association are preparing for the unveiling of the memorial at the Veterans' Plot at Newmarket cemetery on June 20, Decoration Day. The Newmarket Cemetery Board has put the Decoration Day services under the sponsorship of the Newmarket Veterans, and plans include a special speaker, and parade of representatives of Canadian Corps branches in Ontario and United States.

The landscaping of the plot is underway at present, and a flagstone walk is being laid by George Luesby and his two sons. Mr. Luesby is also carving the memorial stone which is at present in Toronto being polished.

Tenders Too High For Housing Here

Newmarket—The low rental housing project has not yet reached a stage where construction can begin, according to most recent information. Calls for tenders for the construction of the houses by the Central Mortgage and Housing corporation have brought several bids but they have been several hundred dollars higher than the maximum figure allowed, according to Mayor Jos. Vale.

Mayor Vale was in touch with the top man of the corporation on Tuesday morning and said that those were the latest developments.

Until a tender has been accepted by the Crown Corporation for construction of the houses the town cannot call for tenders for the construction of sewers and other services.

Newmarket was the first municipality to complete an agreement with the Crown Corporation under the 1948 plan. The property for the project was obtained by the town from the county on the south side of Eagle St.

Around the first of April, low rental housing projects were cancelled, including Newmarket, but were renewed shortly afterwards when the provincial government withdrew an offending bill.

The new building will be connected by a door to the present one which will be devoted to

The teen-town will attempt to provide interest groups, hobbies and sports as well as a coke canteen and dances. It is for all teen-agers of the community and on the executive are representatives of the working teen-agers, the high school and Pickering College.

by monopolies and cartels. The CCF is free to work in the interests of the people because it has steadily refused to accept donations from corporations.

As a veteran, market gardener and the CCF candidate in York North, I regard a genuine housing program, such as the one advocated by the CCF, to be essential. Many veterans are paying as much as $50 a month for the rent of a single room into which they must crowd their families. At the same time unnecessary building and luxury construction proceed on every side.

Other aspects of the CCF first term program are patterned upon the achievements of the CCF government in Saskatchewan which has gained an outstanding reputation for keeping its promises. The C.C.F. in Ontario will do likewise. The C.C.F. government will provide universal hospitalization at the lowest possible cost, a great reduction in the rates charged for automobile and fire insurance, more consideration for human needs in the handling of welfare and compensation cases. It is to be noted that although the CCF in Saskatchewan is a movement of farmers it has placed on the statute books of that province what is generally regarded as the best and fairest labor laws on the continent.

The reckless "get-rich-quick" wastage of natural resources has recently been demonstrated at the Leduc oil field in the province of Alberta. Examples of waste and unscrupulous profiteering can be multiplied in the exploitation of the forest wealth of Ontario. The CCF program for our forests is as follows: end the wasteful exploitation of our forests for private profit and institute sensible management in the public interest; conduct all cutting operations on crown lands by crown corporations, directly or by contract with local residents, under a provincial forest resources commission; use forest profits to protect and maintain the forests as a perpetual resource for provincial purposes generally; institute a program to reforest at least 2,500,000 acres in southern Ontario.

Of particular interest to farmers the CCF guarantees to carry out a five-year program of rapid rural electrification; an extensive program of soil conservation by flood control and reforestation; the establishment of community centres, hospitals and health centres to serve rural areas; the use of surplus farm products for industrial purposes.

The CCF program contains practical objectives, many of which have appeared in the platforms of other political parties. The difference is that the CCF will do what it promises.

ario legislature." In these busy distracting days when so much is happening in far off international fields, we have a tendency to belittle and overlook the urgent requirements of affairs closer at home. Because of these wider and deeper distractions certain people who are governed by an innate selfishness are doing their best to take advantage of this distraction and assail our privileges and freedoms by taking upon themselves the personal opportunity of advancing their own cause which is not necessarily to the advantage of the greater good of all the people.

This is what has been happening in Ontario during the past two years. At the last provincial election we heard much of the 22 promises which read very well on paper and for which cause a great many people of all political faiths voted for the Drew government, but in the past two years we have seen a series of evasions of the Drew promises that have worked to the total disregard for the desires and expectations of the people and have promoted the political ambitions of the few.

When the people allow their interests in local affairs to wane is when they lose much of the progress they have worked so hard to attain. It is my intention to devote more time and energies to the service of North York in the Ontario legislature so that the best possible advantages shall accrue, not only to the constituents of North York, but for the people of Ontario at large.

The only way to progress is to work at it. You cannot get anywhere by just talking about the things that are needed. You have to get right into the middle of things and work on them. Devote your time and energies in public service in order to be in a position to put what you believe into practical use.

If you believe in old age pensions, then work for them. Don't just talk about them. I believe in an old age pension limit at 65 years. I also believe that old age pensions should be set, at least, at $40 a month. I am not just talking about them, it is my intention to work for them and advocate them in the Ontario legislature.

I also believe through my experience in the Aurora town council and in other activities, that municipalities should have representation on the provincial hydro commission. How can this tremendous public utility serve the municipalities which are the real owners if the municipalities have no representation on the commission?

The housing situation has been the subject of a great deal of public writing and speech making, but little seems to have been done about it in a genuinely practical manner. Better housing for the people, particularly veterans and their families and tax relief on new houses has been a subject of too much talk and too little action, and if elected to the Ontario legislature, I intend to keep advocating enactments of proper legislation on the housing problem until something really tangible has been accomplished. I am sure that if the Liberal party is elected to form the government of Ontario after June 7 much speedy action on these and other great social questions will be the result.

The loss to the province by the failure of the present Ontario government to properly and fully co-operate with the federal government is enormous. The personal opinion and inhibitions of a party leader should not be the cause of the whole province suffering through lack of a properly co-operative effort with the federal government. I believe that the cost to Ontario can be counted in large sums of money because of the present situation in Ontario, in its relations to Canada as a whole. And if there were no other reasons why the Drew government should be defeated on June 7, and there are many, this is certainly one reason why a new government should be elected to Queen's Park that will be governed by good sound business practice following a co-ordinated plan of the affairs of Ontario with the rest of the Dominion for the sake of further economic and social progress of the country as a whole.

Progressive Conservative Platform

act faithfully and progressively for a future.

Because it is their future that is at stake—not that of those individuals whose total disregard for democratic principles would destroy it if they could.

Bearing these ideals in mind, it is only out of fairness that I present my platform under the Drew government which undoubtedly has enjoyed one of the most successful and enviable records in Ontario's history. By breaking down the workings of the Progressive Conservative government, I might well be regarded as an integral part in the constituency which I represent.

When it comes to one's own specific riding, that is where, as far as I am concerned, party politics ends. I fully realize that my primary duty in the Ontario legislature is to serve North York as a servant. And since taking office in 1945, I have devoted a great part of my efforts to the development and improvement of highways within this large and important riding.

Whoever coined the time worn axiom: "A nation is judged by the quality of its highways," has won my deepest admiration. For it has been by this token that I have been guided in my efforts to already help bring about the widening of Yonge St. from Steele's Corners to Richmond Hill; the construction of the new super highway from Toronto to Barrie; construction of the Clairville-Bolton road; the hard-surfacing of highway 27 this summer; and my continued support to the financial assistance of the building of municipal highways and bridges which network the riding.

It is my sincerest hope and endeavor to lend much more support to such projects if the electorate sees fit to return me to office. It is my hope, too, that all principal roads leading northward from Toronto will be extended to benefit commercial and passenger users, who at present find traffic conditions wearisome to and from the city.

The new Toronto-Barrie highway was begun basically to expedite summer traffic to northern resorts, but as your representative, I quickly saw its potentiality as a speedier artery for Holland Marsh growers and other truckers who market their produce in Toronto. This project, although completely graded, is awaiting structural steel.

There are 72,000 miles of road in Ontario, about 62,000 falling into the municipal roads category. But despite these vast responsibilities which the Ontario government is obliged to maintain, York county's share of provincial grants in the fiscal year of 1947-48, totalled $1,904,152.

Provincial grants also aided York county education during the same period to the extent of $6,567,362. In Newmarket alone, provincial grants effected a saving to local taxpayers last year of 21.1 mills.

But aside from these major issues, I have always maintained a warm spot in my heart for the aged and the widowed. I can state without fear of contradiction that I have, since taking office, fought hard in their behalf.

And with respect to housing, I am fully aware of the urgent need of emergency action. And to this end the Ontario government will spend $30,000,000 to encourage the construction of housing of all types. Already thousands have taken advantage of government assistance in advancing part of the down payments—the lack of which has often discouraged home ownership. I feel I can be of real service to my comrades of World War I and of the recent conflict, as my conduct in assisting their cause has been proved in the past three years.

And with a brief word to the farmer, I feel I know from personal experience his many problems and I will, as always, devote my every effort to his welfare.

June 11 Big Day For Junior Farmers

Constituting the biggest day of the year in junior farmer circles, the annual picnic and dance of York County's active junior farmers will be held at Musselman's Lake on Friday, June 11, where the afternoon program of sports will begin at 1 p.m. D.S.T. Once again the big excitement of the day will be the softball tournament between the seven junior farmer clubs with mixed teams of four girls and five boys. The first tilt is Unionville vs. Schomberg, while Victoria Square tangles with Vellore, Ross Chapman of Queensville and Del. Gibney of Newmarket will be on hand to select the boys' and girls' teams respectively to represent the county at the Central Ontario Field Day at the O.A.C. on Friday, June 25. All clubs are eagerly looking forward to winning the coveted championship cup.

The sports committee has decided to revive the inter club tug-of-war and have revised the games so as to have full participation of the juniors in games which everyone will like. Boys,

Rural Areas Neglected Dickman Charges

Aurora—A public meeting in the Oddfellows' Hall on Saturday night heard addresses from the C.C.F. candidate in York North, Jack Dickman, and from C. H. Millard, a member of the executive of the Canadian Congress of Labor and C.C.F. candidate in York West.

Mr. Dickman said that neglect of rural areas continues under the present governments at both Queen's Park and Ottawa. The Liberals at Ottawa permitted subsidized bathtubs to fill luxury hotels while only one farm home in seven has a bathtub, he said. Because the provincial government has allowed university fees to rise still higher, many capable rural young people cannot afford to take the expensive medical course and to pay the $15 to $18 a week which it costs to board in the city. As a result, most of the medical students are the sons and daughters of urban families. This helps to explain the disproportionately high number of young doctors who are entering urban practice, Mr. Dickman said. This situation has developed in spite of the Progressive Conservatives' 22 points, one of which promised educational opportunities to the limit of every student's ability, regardless of his financial position.

Mr. Millard said that neglect of the social needs of the population had already caused irreparable damage. Five thousand mental cases cannot be accepted by already overcrowded hospitals, and overcrowded housing is placing many families under the emotional strain which will leave a permanent scar on the future of the nation, he declared. While the building of such necessities as houses and hospitals receives almost no attention from the provincial government, construction materials are diverted to cocktail bars, bank buildings and theatres. "The C.C.F. in Ontario will put human needs first, just as the C.C.F. in Saskatchewan has," said Mr. Millard.

Guernsey Breeders To Picnic June 12

Guernsey breeders across Ontario will be making plans to set aside the day of Saturday, June 12, for their annual monster picnic to be held this year at Fraserdale Farm, Concord.

At a recent directors' meeting of the York-Simcoe Guernsey Club including the picnic committee of the Ontario Association, detailed plans were prepared for the success of this gathering rain or shine. Ample facilities are available if the weather should prove adverse.

Scheduled to begin at 11 a.m., inspection of the Fraserdale herd and a judging competition will constitute the morning session. On the spacious lawns a generous lunch will be supplied and pleasing entertainment. Following greetings from Dr. Campbell, president of the Canadian Association, there will be fun and games for all.

A special local feature will be a draw for the purebred heifer calf, Fraserdale Admiral's Dolly, No. 46387, from Kelmair Dimples Dolly with a two-year-old record of 10,800 lbs. milk, 540 lbs. fat. The proceeds will support the local York-Simcoe Club. This promises to be a grand gathering of Guernsey breeders and their families. Make plans now to attend and bring a friend.

ANSF ORVELD

Mr. and Mrs. S. Fisher are spending the weekend with friends in Hamilton.

Mr. John VanDyk was taken to York County hospital suffering from pneumonia. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miedema are visiting Mrs. Miedema's relatives, who have recently arrived from the Netherlands, in St. George.

Line up your girls now for the 3-legged race and also your two male partners for the 5-legged race. Girls, have your partner for the pie plate race? Some will wish to dan their bailing suits and bask for an hour or so on the beach. Lunches will not be pooled but the tables will be pulled together so we can all become better acquainted. Hot or cold drinks will be provided by the association but bring your own cups.

At 8 o'clock, the beckoning melodies of Glenn Smith's "Merrymakers" will attract the group to the beautifully decorated and newly enlarged Cedar Beach Gardens. Altogether this is the biggest day of the year for the juniors, many of the parents and former junior farmers turn out to see the fun and enjoy the full time program.

Dramatic Club Entertains

Newmarket — The Dramatic Society staged a delightful party for its own members, for the orchestra, and for those who had assisted in anyway to make their presentations a success at the Legion hall recently. Dancing, cards, singing and visiting made the hours fly and a buffet lunch served from a prettily decorated table proved most delicious. I just wished to say how much my husband and I appreciated the warm friendliness and real hospitality which welcomed the guests and made them at home. Such get-togethers promote the desire and determination of different groups to help one another.—I. I. C.

YOUR VOTE FOR

IS NEEDED ON JUNE 7 TO

Keep Ontario STRONG

The outcome of this election will determine the future course of this province for many years to come. Quite apart from any political considerations, you have before you two entirely different points of view. The Progressive Conservative Party believes that this province has unequalled opportunities for development provided that our great resources are put to work under plans for the future which will provide the electric power and other requirements for the greatest period of expansion we have ever known. Our opponents do not believe that these opportunities for expansion exist. It is their right and their duty to express their own opinion about our future. They have done so. They do not believe in our great programme of development. They have acted accordingly and will continue to do so.

You know the record of the government and the many things it has done to advance the interests of all our people. You know the tremendous programme of development which we have approved and which will go into effect if we receive your support on June 7th. We believe that is the way to assure employment in the years ahead. On the other side you have a static point of view which thinks that all this development should be deferred until the threat of unemployment which they are constantly predicting is actually upon us. Developments of this kind take years to complete and the best way to maintain employment in the future is to provide the power and other resources which are needed to keep employment at a high level. That is the point of view we ask you to support.

I do wish to emphasize one unusual feature of this election. The Communists in this province, relatively small in numbers, are highly organized. They are supporting the C.C.F. I recognize that the leaders of the C.C.F. Party have disavowed this support. The fact remains, however, that in every riding except two where there are Communist candidates who were members of the last Legislature, the Communist vote, large or small, is going to the support of C.C.F. candidates. This may be unfortunate for the C.C.F., and may be against the wishes of that Party. It is apparent, however, that the policies of the C.C.F. Party find sufficient acceptance with the Communists to gain their support.

No matter how worthy any individual C.C.F. candidate may be you have only one way of making sure that your vote is not going to be joined with a Communist vote. It should be remembered that in every country where Communism has come to power, including Russia, it came originally through an alignment with the Socialist party in that country. You may think the danger is still far away here in Canada. Only a few years ago they thought it was very far away in those countries which have been brought under Communist slavery within the past three years. The time to end the threat of Communism is while we are still strong and free, not when freedom hangs in the balance and we face one last desperate decision.

This is not just an ordinary election. With democracy threatened all over the world as it is today, this is an opportunity for the people of Ontario to show by their vote that they really believe in the right to vote. Naturally I hope that you will support the candidate of our party in your riding. No matter how you vote, however, may I urge every one of you to exercise your franchise so that we demonstrate to ourselves and to those living in less fortunate lands, that we really know the value of our freedom. Never has this province advanced so greatly as it has under the progressive policies of the present government. Our programme for the future provides for still greater development in the years ahead. With the great opportunities which are before us, I hope you will give us an overwhelming mandate to keep Ontario strong through the years ahead.

Is This The Strength Ontario Wants?

The Progressive Conservative campaign posters advise: "Keep Ontario strong. Vote Progressive Conservative." This is indeed a provocative statement. Does it mean the numerical strength in the legislature which enables the government to break promises and ignore with impunity the needs of the people? That is what the Drew regime has done. It promises, for example, increases in old age pensions—and then attaches the disgusting proviso that the increases ranging up to $10 will be paid in proportion to proven need. The miserly interpretation the provincial government puts upon that proviso is quite evident in the paucity of payment: 1,965 pensioners had received the full increase at the middle of April, 5,000 had been allowed a supplement of less than $10, and the remaining 82 percent had received nothing at all.

Or does this campaign slogan refer only to the numerical strength to force through the legislative house, with little regard for other's opinions, legislation which has been obnoxious to a large percentage of the people. We mean the cocktail bar legislation. Or does this slogan refer simply to the supreme egotism of a party which, while professing a most solemn respect for democratic processes, ignores those same principles to the extent that when asked to outline its policy on the liquor issue, it replies with evasions.

We refer to the request of the Ontario Temperance Federation to the three parties that they outline their policies with respect to the liquor issue in Ontario. Both Liberal and CCF parties answered with excerpts from their platforms which dealt with this topic. Premier Drew's office replied simply that the communication had been received and would be placed before the premier at the "very earliest opportunity". That was on April 23. Last week, the Toronto Daily Star carried a news story on the Temperance communication and the three replies. Premier Drew still hasn't answered it at the time of this writing.

This refusal to place its policies on record—is that what the posters mean when they advise you to "Keep Ontario strong?"

What Does The Record Say?

Premier Drew called an election on June 7 because, he said, the importance of the proposal to change the 25-cycle "island" in southern Ontario to 60 cycles was so great that the people of the province should have an opportunity to express approval or disapproval of it. But this excuse was obviously false. No one disagreed with the need for the change-over. The house had unanimously approved the proposal. There was nothing in what Premier Drew proposed as an issue for a general election and the public was quick to see that the hydro change-over was only an excuse to cover up the real reason for the election—the political ambition of the Progressive Conservative party and specifically that of its provincial leader who fancies himself the budding Messiah who will lead the federal party out of the wilderness of John Bracken's leadership.

So what was to have been an election fought on a winning issue of the government's choice has gotten out of hand. There will be little thought of the hydro change-over when Ontario goes to the polls. But there will be a deep concern with the record of the Drew regime and on that record, there are the infamous 22 points and the manner in which they were not kept. Premier Drew asserts that the 22-point program on which he was elected was carried out. He clings to the assertion with the tenacity of a drowning man clutching to a bit of driftwood tossed his way by the sea. He offers nothing except a remarkable adeptness with epithets for his critics. But what does the record say?

Pledge eight of the 22 points said that "An Ontario housing commission will be created to plan a great housing program throughout the province." And where are the houses?

Pledge 13 promised that "The Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario will be removed from political control." And how has Premier Drew gone about observing this pledge? By the appointment of Robert Saunders, George H. Challies and Robert Strike, all three of them dyed-in-wool Conservatives.

Pledge four promised that "farming will be organized in every county under committees of outstanding farmers who will be given authority to plan production and regulate the processing and distribution of their output." And pledge seven said "Our vast forest resources... will be placed under the control of an Ontario Forests resources commission which will operate under long-term policies of conservation, reforestation and soil control. Instead of aiding the farmer, the Drew regime torpedoed the milk control board. Instead of conserving forest resources, the Drew regime ignored the recommendations of its commissioner that would accomplish this end.

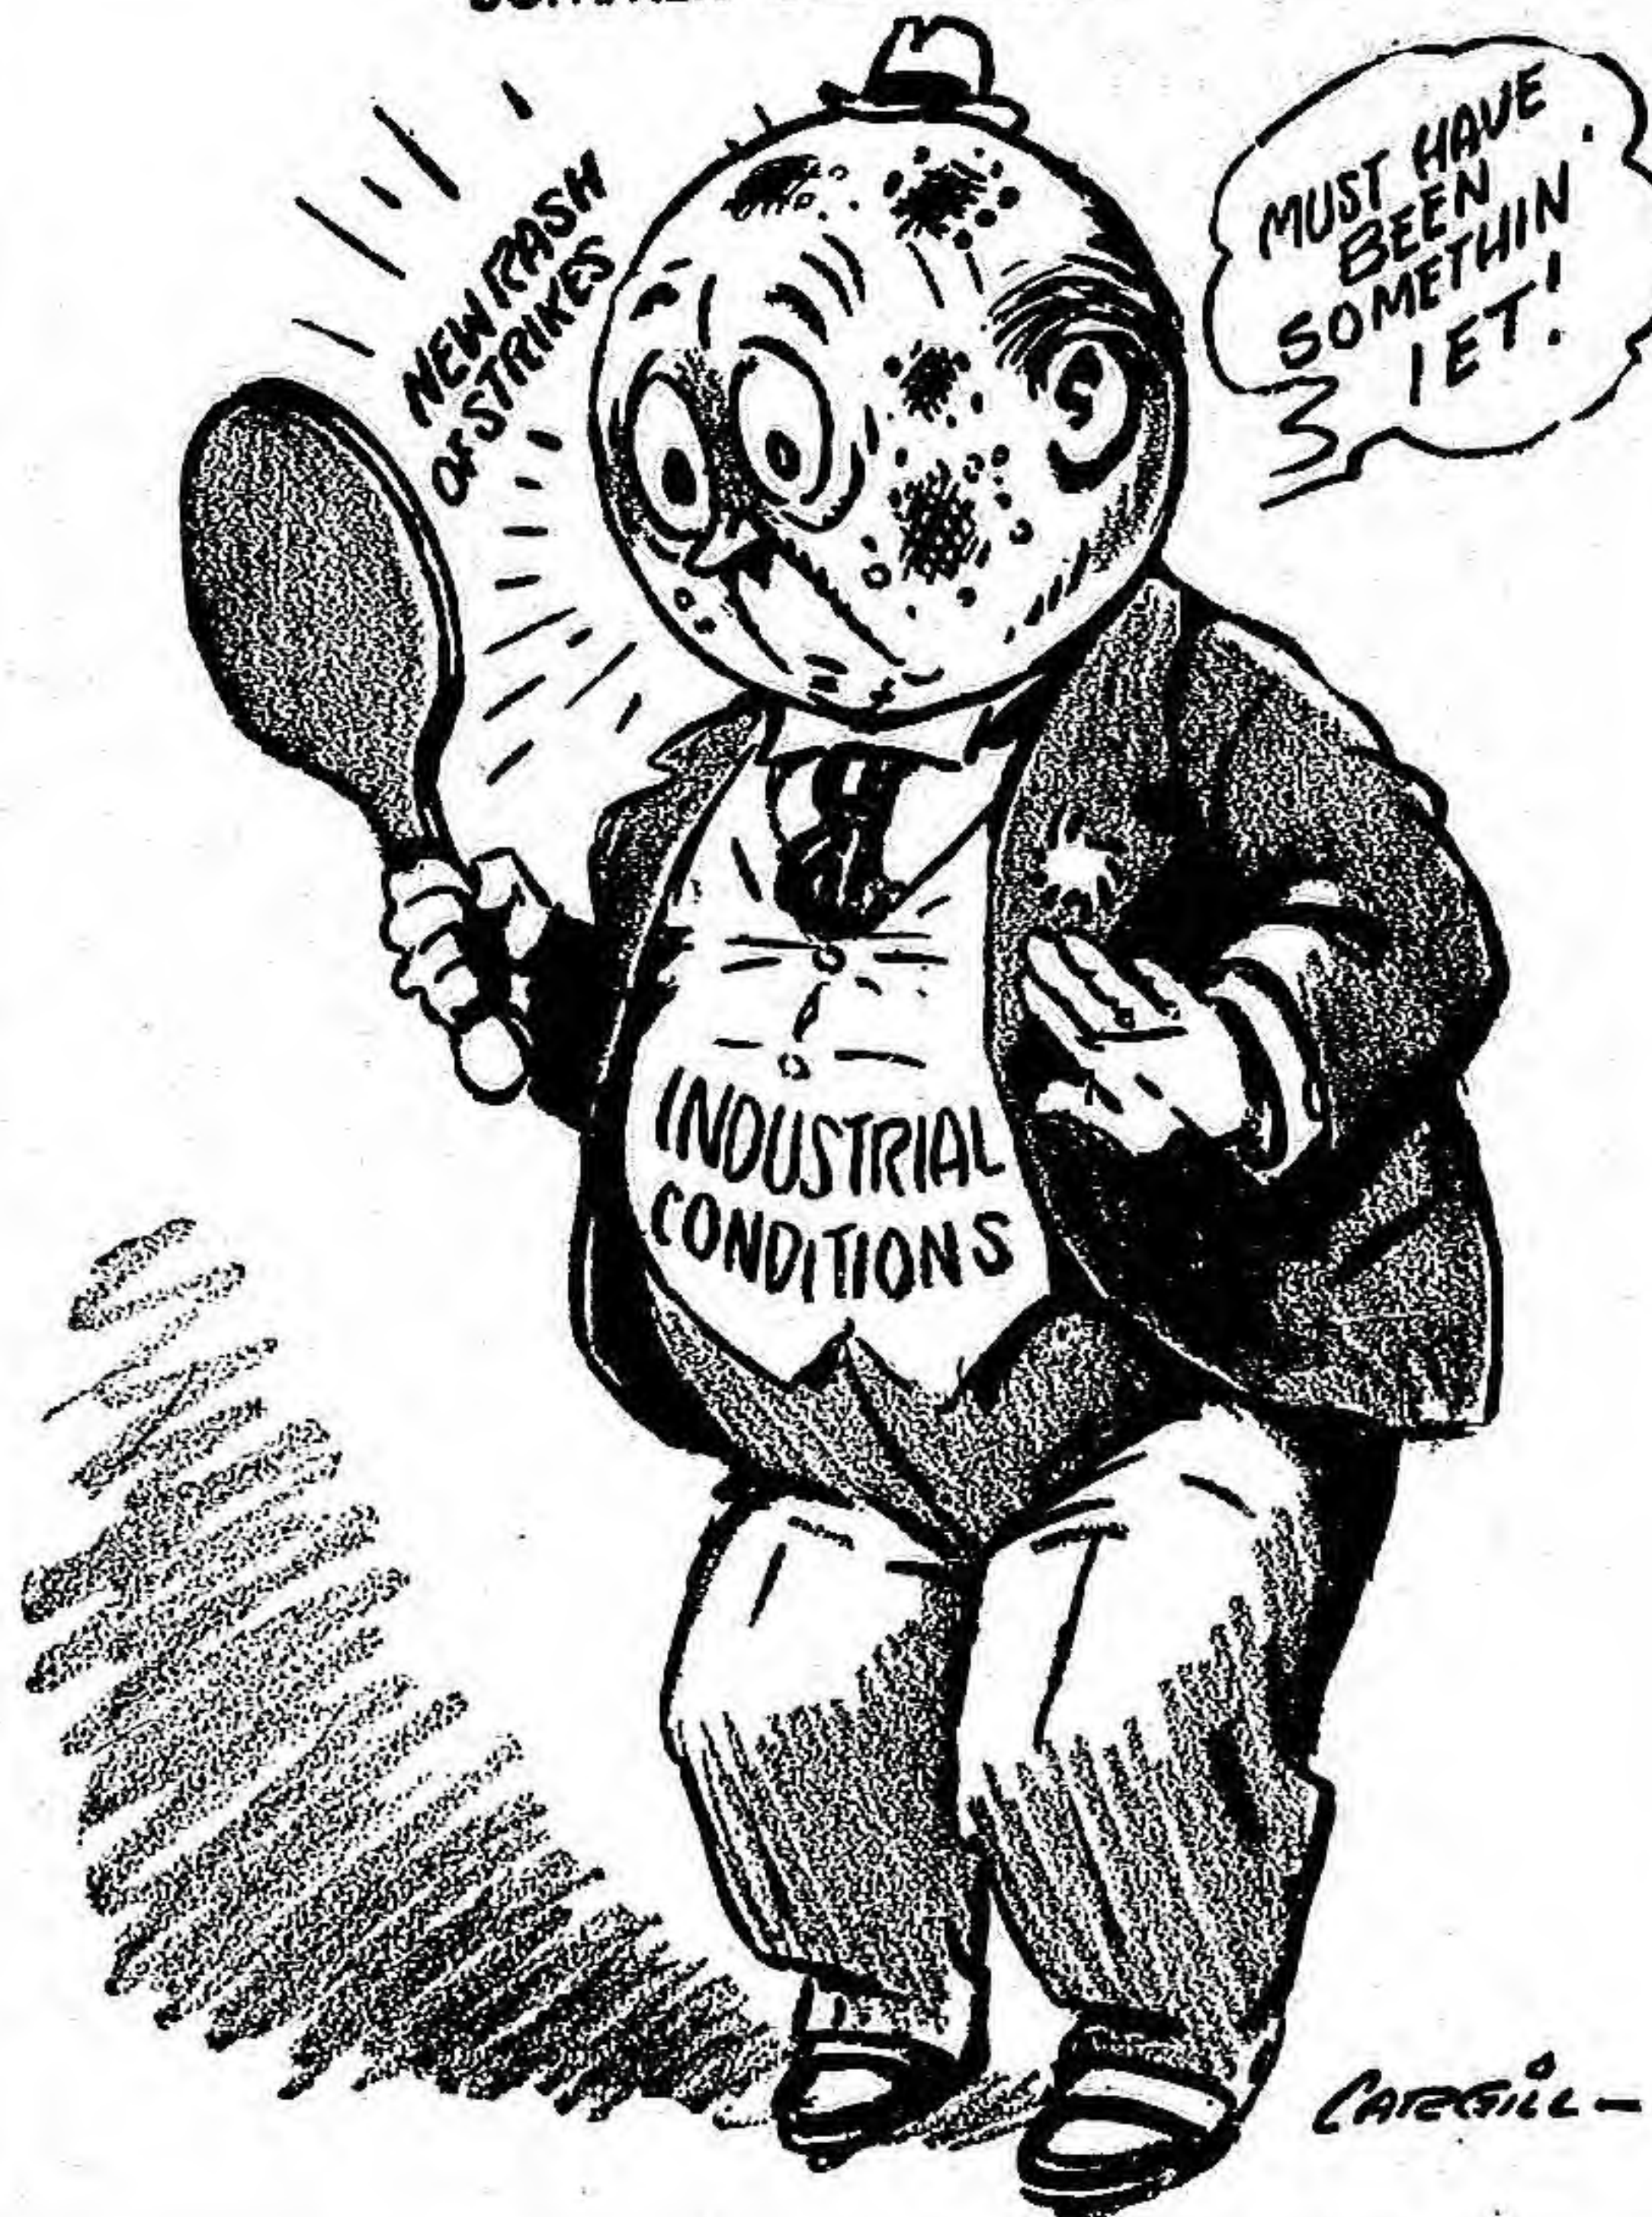

Pledge 19 assured voters that organization and administrative control would guarantee consumers reasonable prices for milk and other basic necessities. When he asserts that he has carried out the full 22 points, including the latter, does Premier Drew also suggest that the cost of these basic necessities has not risen?

These are the commitments that the Progressive Conservative government assumed when they went into office. They haven't been kept, Premier Drew to the contrary, and now, when the opportunity is present, do the Progressive Conservatives suggest alternatives? They do not. They insist in the face of the evidence that they have observed their pledges. Ontario knows better.

The public attitude towards this election has been one of apathy. There has been little political talk on the street corners and in the hardware stores. Even the barber has contended himself with the remark that "there doesn't seem to be much excitement about the election". It would be most unfortunate if his apathy were expressed at the polls by a low vote. There are some political students who contend that a refusal to mark a ballot is a legitimate expression of public opinion. We think otherwise. Regardless of a personal opinion of the candidates or the issues, it is the duty of every citizen to mark his ballot.

Letters of appreciation are being received in growing numbers from the English recipients of the personal parcels sent from Newmarket. These personal parcels are more than a simple response to need. They are better than the mere preservation of the "empire bond". We think they achieve their fullest symbolism as expressions of neighborliness, the easy, friendly gesture of one neighbor to another even though thousands of miles may separate the sender and the recipient.

"SUMMER COMPLAINT"

Cat Nips

BY GINGER

I am worried about Fairley Lake. To me it looks like it's not doing a good job of being a lake.

Lakes are something which kids swim in. When you think of a nice little lake with clear water reflecting the blue sky and the fleecy clouds on a sunny day, you also think of a group of youths thrashing about in it and a bevy of pretty girls in scanty suits paddling at the edge. You think of the spirited trout flashing in the crystal waters, maybe swans or ducks on it.

But these thoughts can't be thought about Fairley Lake. No. You can't swim in it because most of the time there is a thick green goo on it. When there is a wind, the goo piles up at one end and starts to smell. There are no ducks, swans, kids, boys or pretty girls on it.

I am disappointed in the fish. They are an unfortunate result of the "survival of the fittest," part goldfish and part sucker, I think. They don't even ever get eaten. They must lead a bitter life.

I contend that Fairley Lake ain't no lake at all. It's full of mud right up to within an inch of the top. You can tell because there are tops of bulrushes sticking right up in the middle.

Only in the winter time when it's all frozen over would someone think it was a lake. I have never seen anyone swim in it. This may not be true, but I heard that a dog went in for a swim, for fun, one day and all his hair fell off the next day. I'm glad cats don't swim, as a rule.

Euclid, our rat, who once went on a geological field expedition for laughs, and who knows geological symptoms when he sees them, says that eventually there won't be any lake. He says that natural erosion puts mud in the river and the gradient carries it right to the lake where the current stops and all the mud settles to the bottom. Euclid is smart.

Euclid took a small scientific apparatus for testing the acid content in waters and left it for a week in Fairley Lake. When he came back to take the reading, it had all been eroded away.

"A cat may look at a king," said Alice. "I've read that in some book but I don't remember where."—Lewis Carroll.

Euclid is pretty smart, but he's pretty dumb at some things. Why he thought that the King's Plate was something special they were serving at the King George and that the Liberal slogan, "Give George the gate in '48" meant that all professional sports should be subsidized by the provincial government so it could take in gate receipts.

Give him a nice jutey problem with lots of figures and numbers to work out and he's a better man than Gunga Din but he gets mixed up in these other things.

Lately he has been fiddling about with politics and after going over the platforms of all the parties for the coming election, he decided that society must be given a shot in the arm and a kick in the pants and that there must be a completely new spirit introduced in politics. Just before press day Euclid drafted out plans for a new party called the "Federation of Enlightened Souls for Good Measure" and tucked it up on the bulletin board below "part two orders."

Briefly, its aims are: "To introduce legislation to limit all political candidates to school teachers, writers, publishers, artists and tombstone engravers; to replace all big industrial executives with farmers, veterinary surgeons and printers; to conscript all existing politicians into the civil service and put a policeman in charge of each department. With these changes made, everyone else that is left over will change jobs with his fellow man so that he is doing something completely foreign to him. Mathematicians will be put in charge of everything as enlightened dictators."

Euclid says it will introduce a freshness to society. Our printers, who set all standards of thought in our shop, read Euclid's manifesto and went out into the back room where they had a riot.

That's why we had a ten-page paper last week.

On Second Thought

By The Editor

We spent the other night reading of the colorful political figures of the past and the rip-roaring campaigns they conducted at election time. Around midnight, after a small refresher of pickles, sardines, peanut butter and crackers, we fell into bed and so to sleep. That night we dreamt of today's campaign as it might have been back in the old days.

The scene was the market hall on nomination day. The returning officer, decked out in a red coat with gold trim and flanked by corps of assistants, presided over a large desk on which were the symbols of his office. The room was grandly decorated with the flags of the dominion and the crests of the province.

Suddenly there is a stir at the far end of the hall and in comes Lex Mackenzie riding on a bulldozer and waving a banner on which is inscribed in glowing words "Yours for the super-highway to Barrie". With a grandiloquent gesture, he brings the bulldozer to a halt in front of the returning officer and standing up in the driver's seat, he calls for three cheers for George Drew.

The echoes have hardly died away when Ross Linton makes his appearance followed by the Shade of William Lyon Mackenzie. Ignoring Lex, he marches to the returning officer's desk where he introduces the Shade of Mackenzie to the returning officer. "My running mate on the platform of representative government," he says with dignity. The introduction has scarcely been completed when there is a renewal of the bustle at the doorway and all heads turn as the third candidate comes in, beating under his arm a large roll of blueprints on which are written "Complete plans for the economy of Ontario". Mr. Dickman places his credentials before the returning officer and then turns a cold gaze upon his political opponents. Faintly in the distance are heard the strains of the March of the Gladiators.

Outside the hall a thronging crowd of citizens wait eagerly the appearance of their favorites. One by one, they show themselves at the balcony to be greeted with loud cheers from the crowd. As each takes his brief moment, they vie with promises of what they, personally, shall do to the other man. Cheers are multiplied as one candidate eats a haunch of raw venison to demonstrate his toughness. They are dwarfed by the acclaim as another uproots a stump with his teeth. The roof is raised as the third snaps a steel chain across his chest.

In the meantime, the returning officer has completed his formalities and after a brief look in the mirror to see that his robes are properly settled, he moves majestically to the front where, after a fanfare of trumpets, he announces the nominations closed. That night, there is a torchlight procession enlivened with horse races and fist fights.

Alas—it was only a dream.

Tulip Festival At Holland, Michigan

The following from the St. Thomas Times-Journal will be of interest to our many readers of Dutch descent:

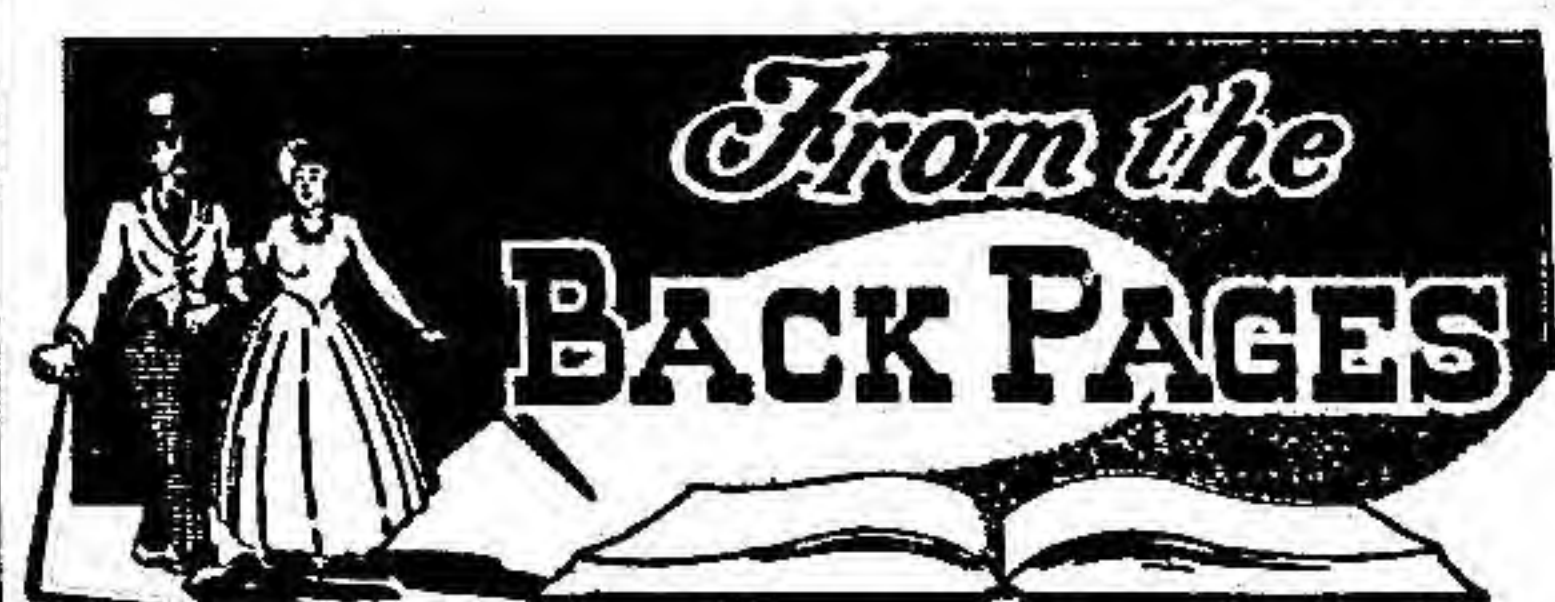

Stating that it was one of the most beautiful events he has attended, Cecil L. Snyder, R.C., enthusiastically describes a visit to the annual tulip festival at Holland, Mich. The colorful spectacle was held for four days last week. It is reported that close to a million visitors attended, including a record crowd on the final day, Sunday, of over 250,000.

Mr. Snyder has been in Michigan for the past three weeks and in company with his friend, Percy H. Gardiner, of Toronto, noted Canadian financier and industrialist, took a day to visit the famous flower show. Mr. Snyder was also in the state capital, Lansing, on business, but he and Mr. Gardiner made their headquarters at Battle Creek.

On Saturday Mayor Van Antwerp, of Detroit, headed a special delegation of Dutch-Americans and their friends from Detroit by a special Chesapeake and Ohio Railway train on the 175-mile trip from Detroit to Holland to attend the tulip festival.

The highways leading to Holland were crowded with automobiles and buses, flower lovers coming singly and in groups to view the magnificent floral display. It was said that an increasing number of visitors is coming every year from Canada.

Tulip time in Holland, Michigan, had its start in 1929 when the idea took hold of beautifying the city with tulip plantings. The word spread and soon it was Holland's good fortune to find itself host to the many thousands who came to see the spectacular beauty of a tulip-decked city. Each succeeding

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By STANLEY

A Bit Of Fun

A cub reporter on an English newspaper was reprimanded for giving too much detail. "Keep it brief," ordered the editor. The next day he found the following on his desk: "Shooting a tragedy last night, Lord Hapless, a guest at Lady Whistful's, complained of feeling ill, took a highball, hit his head and lost a tooth, a pistol from his pocket, and his life. Good chap. Regrets."

KESWICK

Mrs. Etta Wilder and Mrs. Effie Hopkins and Mrs. Brown attended the county W.C.T.U. convention. Mrs. Brown conducted the memorial service at the convention which was impressive.

Mrs. Beth McKay, the provincial field secretary of the W.C.T.U., stressed the need for more mothers' meetings and more earnestness in devotional period, and in carrying out the temperance work. Mrs. Greenway, the provincial president, gave a wonderful address in the afternoon. She did not understand how anyone could say the Lord's Prayer and promote the liquor traffic, she said.

The solos and music were much appreciated by the convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Wright and baby of Toronto spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elias Fairbairn.

Miss Bessie Terry is visiting in Toronto.

Whitchurch S.S. Meet Disagrees With Drew

The Township of Whitchurch Sunday-school Association annual convention was held at Baker Hill Baptist church on Wednesday, May 26. "Making the Sunday-school worthy of its name in our community" was the theme of the convention and the three services in the day were well attended. President Clarence Doner, Gormley, opened the session.

Reports were given by Rev. N. Rowan on religious education in schools, Mrs. R. Flyer on the adult division, Mrs. A. Hoover on children's division and Mrs. Grant Morley on the girls' division. Rev. Bailey of Gormley, the morning speaker, reminded every teacher to be a good salesman and never stop until work for the individual has been achieved. David Clark conducted the devotional in the afternoon session. The Baker Hill choir sang in the afternoon session.

Rev. Gibson Brown, Bloomington Sunday-school, said the teachers should know how to teach among different personalities and be prepared to use the one-half hour a week to advantage. Much Bible study is needed, more time is required in the preparation of the lesson and each child must feel wanted in the class, he said, and that if these things were carried out, the adult classes would be filled.

ELMHURST BEACH

Miss Elinor Lunn, a bride-to-be of Saturday, June 5, was entertained on Tuesday evening by the Christian church members in Keswick and was presented with beautiful gifts. On Wednesday evening Mrs. Carl Anderson had a miscellaneous shower in her home and she received many lovely gifts.

Weekend guests at the Lunn home were Elinor, Agnes, Mr. Charles Green and Mr. Harry Webber.

Mr. Sturdy had his gas tanks broken into and several gallons of gasoline stolen on Saturday night.

Mrs. Ted Cook, Mrs. Art Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Marshall and daughter, Beverly Anne, visited Mr. and Mrs. Art Dawson over the weekend.

Those who have taken advantage of the x-ray clinic at Queensville have not only benefited themselves but have co-operated in a really worthwhile effort to help stamp out T.B. A great deal of credit is due Mrs. Geo. Pearson, Queensville, and her committee of volunteer workers who tried to make this a complete survey in our district.

Mrs. Fred Connelly spent last week visiting Mrs. Selby Sedore. Other guests on Sunday were Mrs. Frank Maw, Frankie, baby and Mr. Connelly.

Mrs. Heath and Allen are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sedore.

Mr. Pat Morrissey spent the weekend at home.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lowndes were Mrs. Rawlins Lowndes, Miss Lorine Robinson, Harry F. Dow and R. Connelly.

Mr. Lorne Anderson spent the weekend at home.

QUEENSVILLE

A splendid meeting of the W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Ross Chapman on Thursday, May 20. Mrs. A. E. Millen conducted the meeting and Mrs. A. Mackenzie reviewed the Study Book (language without love) on Africa which was interesting. Mrs. Sydney Thompson gave a fine report on the convention held in Aurora. Plans and work for the hale were completed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Smith in June.

Mrs. John D. Moore has returned from the hospital to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sydney Thompson.

Mrs. Ed Hill, Toronto, spent last week visiting her sister, Mrs. Minnie Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. Cam. Johnson and baby were at the home of Mrs. Johnson's parents over the weekend.

We are pleased to report that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston have returned from Minden to stay here in their own home.

Mr. Wilson Greig, Toronto, was in the village for the weekend.

Mrs. Tom Allison, Miss Margaret Allison and Mr. Ray Burton of Richmond Hill visited at the home of Mr. Angus Smith on Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Burkholder Sr. entertained the euchre club on Thursday night.

The sixth school played against the Union Street school last Tuesday and won the game. The sports field is much improved since levelling was done.

Pino Orchard won the game over Queensville by a small margin on Thursday night.

Rev. F. R. Wellington, Toronto, suggested to the intermediate that they think of attendance, punctuality, bringing Bibles and offering, staying for church and home work. Rev. Edgar Morton conducted the evening service. Mrs. Beth McKay gave a talk on temperance and the Forward Airs, a quartette from Toronto, sang.

Resolutions passed at the convention included: to have every teacher visit each scholar in the home, to urge teachers, workers and parents to secure commitments to the Sunday-schools throughout the year and to observe the Lord's Day strictly and reverently as resolved in the fall rally. Temperance resolutions were to continue the protest against cocktail bars being forced on cities without a vote, that the convention can't agree with Premier George Drew that the recent legislation is working for temperance and that the convention re-affirms its conviction that total abstinence is the Christian duty. Thanks were expressed to the speakers, leaders of the sessions, singers and the ladies who provided food.

Sharon Calf Club Meets At Walker Farm

The newly outlined demonstration work was the keynote of last week's meeting of the Sharon Calf Club at Harry Walker's farm near Newmarket. Bill Armstrong, the president, was chairman for the evening while secretary Angus Morton recorded the minutes. Joe Lundy outlined the main characteristics of the Holstein Breed and this was followed by a casting demonstration. While Clara Eves held the heifer, explaining at the same time the reason and method of casting, Angus Morton tied the bowline and half hitches and threw the animal. It was demonstrated this act could be accomplished on either side with the same hitch.

While the heifer was down, Charlie Haines, the club leader, demonstrated the reason and method of hoof trimming. Returning to the barn, Archie McKenzie, assistant representative, indicated and named the various parts of the cow and outlined the main items in judging. This was followed by a quiz on the boys' study manual. The judging class of four Holstein cows in milk followed with each boy given ten minutes to make his placing. The host, Mr. Walker, went out of his way to make the boys welcome. Next month John Breen will give a word on the Jersey breed while the demonstration period will be taken up making rope halters, the younger boys assisted by the older club members.

Don't"Miss the Boat"

Poultry and egg market prospects indicate that the producer who cuts down too far on the number of chicks he raises this year will "miss the boat".

Dominion Marketing Service reports market poultry outlook "best in years". . . fewer cockerels started, heavy exports, heavy demand. For the same reasons, egg market outlook is very strong. Fewer early pullets, heavy marketing of laying hens, strong consumer demand, all indicate short supplies and higher prices.

These shortages make real poultry profits still possible, provided you start vigorous, fast-growing, fast-developing chicks, right away . . . or you can cut your cost of living by starting that kind and having your own eggs and poultry. Buy chicks are that kind! Order today.

BringingAmerican Dollars to Canada

In 1947 Canada's trade with the United States exceeded two and three quarter billion dollars. It is the heaviest two-way trade in the world. Canada's need for American dollars to sustain this trade is vital.

Who brings American dollars to Canada?

People who make and export goods; and people who cater for tourists.

And, of course, your bank helps . . . by financing business and industry to expand production for export. This is one of the many ways in which Canada's system of competitive banking serves the Canadian people.

IN MEMORIAM

Fawcett—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Clarence Howard Fawcett, who passed away June 2, 1946. Time speeds on, two years have passed. Since death its gloom, its shadow cast; Within our home where all seemed bright, And look from us a shining light. We miss that light and ever will. His vacant place there is none can fill. Down here we mourn, but not in vain. For up in Heaven we will meet again. Ever remembered by wife and family.

Heath—In proud and loving memory of Pte. W. J. (Bill) Heath, B44984 C.H.O., killed in action June 7, 1944. Always in our thoughts, not just today, but every day; Too dearly loved to ever be forgotten. Lovingly remembered by mom, dad, sisters and brother.

Marles—In memory of our dear son and brother, Arthur Orris Marles, who passed away May 30, 1943. He is gone, but not forgotten; And, as dawns another year, In our lonely hours of thinking, Thoughts of him are always near. Days of sadness still come o'er us, Friends may think the wound is healed; But they little know the sorrow That lies within the heart concealed. Sadly missed and remembered by mother, father, sisters and brothers.

McGhee—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Elizabeth McGhee, who passed away, June 2, 1947. Her thoughts were all so full of us. She never could forget, And so we think that where she is, She must be watching yet. As angels keep their watch up there. Please God, just let her know That we down here do not forget, We love and bless her soul. 'Tis sweet to remember a mother so dear, So absent from us, yet ever so near; Unseen by the world, she stands by our sides, And whispers, dear children, death cannot divide. So you who have a mother, Cherish her with care, For you'll never know the heart-ache, 'Till you see her vacant chair. Lovingly remembered by sons and daughters.

Walker—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Byron Walker, who passed away May 30, 1944. The rolling stream of life rolls on, But still a vacant chair. Recalls the love, the voice, the smile, Of the one who once sat there. Ever remembered by son Bruce and the family.

Williamson—In loving memory of our darling son, Douglas, who passed away June 8, 1940. When the dewy light was fading, And the sky in beauty smiled; The angels came into our garden, And smiled our sweet flower. Lovingly remembered by mamma, daddy and brothers.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

AT THE D.A.

(The following is a continuation of a report on the Institute District Annual at Nobleton. Last week's report dealt with the opening ceremonies and reports.)

Miss Anna Lewis now addressed the assembly. She spoke of her pleasure in being present and said that although it was far from being her first visit to North York Institutes, it was her first official visit to the District Annual. She said she was very pleased with the various reports and glad that many convenors observed the rule of telling the number of Institutes heard from out of the possible 25. She was pleased that many Institutes had exhibitions of handicrafts, for, said Miss Lewis, we remember more of what we see and do than what we hear. She was glad so much attention was being paid to historical research as North York was rich in material for such work.

Mrs. McClure, federated director, who spent some time in Britain and Europe, stressed the need of these people and she said in sending parcels to Britain, fats were of supreme importance and were received with joy. These parcels are excellent for the morale of the recipients, too. She said that fats and sweets and meats were of more use than cake or pastry mixes; rice helps out the small potato ration.

Mrs. Van Nostrand read the resolutions, including: To clean up verminous houses; to exert a strict censorship over movies, comics and magazines which children see; to insure safety from sex offenders; to provide pensions for permanently disabled citizens; to delete Daylight Saving; to allow the use of oleomargarine.

Mrs. E. Armstrong then read the report of the nominating committee. A letter of regret was read from the district president, Mrs. Bayne, expressing her sorrow that illness caused her to relinquish a post she would have been proud to fill. Mrs. Colville asked that a letter expressing our regret be sent to Mrs. Bayne.

While a great many members now retired to the dining-room for luncheon, the voters — the new presidents, the district directors, and the other members appointed to do so — remained and got down to work, although with a slightly empty feeling in the pit of the stomach, as most of us had breakfasted early and hurriedly. Perhaps that is why the voting was expeditious.

A rally, with Personality in Dress as the choice of subject, was selected and Miss Lewis emphasized it was not an officer's rally but for all members who can possibly go. Any Institutes taking short courses should be sure that the representatives be present as these short courses represent time and money on the part of the department. It was suggested that we might help young mothers to come out to short courses by looking after the children. By this time a furnished look adorned the countenances of all and we repaired to the dining-room.

(To be continued next week)

Golden Glow Visits The Market

By GOLDEN GLOW

They talk about the "leafy month of June"—but I think they should revise it and say the leafy month of May, for here it is May 24 and all the trees and shrubs have leafed weeks ago. The earth is a wonderful place at this time of year—and in spite of cloudy days and continued cool weather nature has brought every green thing back to life. The spring flowers are as beautiful as ever and this cool weather has prolonged their term of beauty. As I write I can see the lilac bushes in the garden all ready to come into full bloom. I can hear the oriole calling up in the soft maple in my neighbor's garden. And I saw that some black and orange beauty this morning coming for a swim in my bird bath.

We have a family of young robins here and how the parent birds do work to keep them fed, and what fights they have with the blackbirds. I wonder if the blackbirds would do the baby robins any harm? The old birds make good and sure they don't get a chance!

I am sorry to say I picked up a dear little dead bird—we were taking a walk to see the beautiful flowers in the gardens on our side of the town. You could not see how it met its death. It was so pretty, so tiny and so pathetic I just couldn't leave it lying there. I carried it home and after two of my near neighbors had seen it and lamented over it too, I gave it Christian burial under one of my rose bushes. One neighbor said it was a wild canary—another one called it a warbler. It was a golden color with black and so tiny and so dainty, and I saw its mate up in a bush quite near. I think seeing the other bird decided me I must not leave the tiny creature there but must bring it home and bury it. These things do sadden you so—you can't forget.

Well, here it is a week later, May 29, and such a week as we have had—wonderful weather! Blue skies and warm days and nights—with the result that now we are again living in a green world. The lilac bushes are a mass of bloom—our town folk must be fond of them for all over in every section of the town you see gorgeous clumps of them from pure white to deep purple and the perfume in the evening is something to dream about. The tiny humming birds are certainly enjoying them. Last night we were supposed to have thunder storms but not us—somebody else may have, for it turned quite cool after a scorching hot day. You never saw better tulips than we have this year and dandelions! What a crop!

I went to market this morning to get some farmer's butter, but—made from the cream after the cows get out to pasture, and I was surprised to see a bushel basket and more of asparagus, cut with the dew still on it. It was selling like hot cakes! Then a man came with bags and baskets of potatoes, and he too was selling out quickly. I was talking to him and he said how amazed he is that Newmarket people do not patronize the market and make a real live institution of it. I said, "Well I can tell you one thing that killed our market. We used to have a splendid market here but the Toronto buyers spoiled it for us. You see we were not prepared to buy poultry by the dozen or huge baskets of butter and eggs and if the farmers sold out a few dozen eggs or a few pounds of butter or a fowl here and there, the buyers refused to take what was left over and they were left with it on their hands."

He said, "Yes, I've heard that." Well what can we do? And moreover if you are not there good and early you find the market empty—everybody gone! In the "good old days" I remember having to push and shove to get in at all. And the Christmas market—that was something, I can tell you! It is now only a memory and I doubt if it can ever be anything more. All the same it does seem too bad to keep up the market building for the few who buy and sell these days.

I was delighted to see some antique furniture there, no doubt ready for an auction sale, a huge solid sideboard all with carved work on the doors, a high back bedstead—the headboard must reach to the ceiling in an ordinary bedroom—and someone said it was solid walnut! But an auction sale is always such a pathetic occasion somehow, signifying the breaking up of somebody's home.

OLIVER THE MAN

Twenty-odd years ago a lad of 22 was the youngest member ever elected to Ontario's legislature. He is still there and today he is asking you to send him back for his seventh consecutive term—this time as premier of a Liberal government.

That man is Farquhar Oliver who has come far from his Grey county ancestral farm—which he still successfully operates—to the leadership of the Liberal party of Ontario.

During the past two decades, Farquhar Oliver has widened his horizon in public life. His years of public service have given him a thorough grasp of provincial problems. Yet he still has the vigour of youth, mellowed by mature, experienced wisdom.

His career has been marked by action—no windy words or empty promises for him! As minister of public welfare and public works, he

These are his assets: honesty, sincerity, reliability, experience, capability, hard work—and freedom from any dictator complex.

Such qualities are what Ontario needs. They will enable Farquhar Oliver to plan and work constructively for all, for a happier, healthier life for all, for a greater Ontario.

... This is Farquhar Oliver — the Man

Aurora Juniors Take Markham 9-0, 11-4

Aurora junior OBS squad took two games last week in convincing style, blasting Markham 9-0 in Aurora and 11-4 in the southern village. While the Markies are rated as juveniles, they are better than average and the showing power all the way along the line leads, manager Leonard Simmons to think he has the best team he's ever assembled. Here are the lads wearing Aurora uniforms this year: Mac Clement, c. Jim McDonald, t. Ken Broughton, p. Gerry Acheson, p. Don Brown, po. Stan Winger, c. Norm Stunder, p. lb. Grant Blight, 2b. Ron Simmons, ss. p. Red Palmateer, 3b. Don Little, 3b. "Jumbo" Palmer, 2b. o. Bill McGhee, 1b. o. Dan Bovair, o. Tommy McHale, o. Eric Smith, o. Don Gibson, o.

BONITAS VS. AURORA

Bonitas of the Greenwood Park circuit will play Aurora juniors on Monday night, June 7, at 6:45 p.m. The Toronto boys are rated as junior A and are said to be plenty hot. The game rates as likely to be one of the best of the season.

Vets' Softball

The Vets softball followers were disappointed Tuesday night. They were expecting to see the opening gun fired but the last minute withdrawal of the Thornhill crew spoiled this. The Hill club apparently found it impossible to round up enough mushballers to trot out a team. But hold onto your hats my hearties. Next Tuesday will definitely find the Vets in their opening "to do" at the Stuart Scott school grounds. We have it from league proxy Doug May and his Aurora sidekick, Hal Rogers, that they have an entry from Woodbridge. Nice going men. So it will be Woodbridge here next Tuesday, June 8. Actually the Vets hit the highway to Langstaff tonight to try conclusions with the latter team.

Midget Baseball

The Lions midget baseball nine will "get around" to starting their season this week. The "Roar Laddies" were off to Richmond Hill last night for their first encounter of the young season. They open their home stand here tomorrow, Friday night. Stouffville midgets will roll into town then. This is likely to be the best early season duel, so the baseball experts will tell you. Stouffville and Newmarket always get to battling when they hit the diamond. Manager Bill Haskett will have his club on hand in full strength and the baseball minded fans need no reminding of the feuds between these two teams of yesteryear.

Ladies' Softball

Newmarket Ladies open at Shanty Bay Friday, June 4, and go away to Barrie once again the following Wednesday to tackle the Copaco nine. They will be at home Thursday, June 10, with Valleys the opposition.

BOWLING NEWS

The Newmarket Lawn Bowling club held its first tournament Wednesday afternoon with 18 rinks in competition. Ray Jelley's rink of Stanley Jones and Doug Brown were high for three wins, D. Dunsire of Uxbridge second high for three wins, Tom Doyle high for two wins, and Harry Corner of Aurora high for one win. The greens are in excellent shape. The opening evening for the men is Monday, June 7.

OPEN HERE FRIDAY

The Newmarket Lions club midget team opens up against Stouffville tomorrow night at Stuart Scott grounds. The midgets lost their first game last night at Richmond Hill 12-5.

Newmarket Girls Tie Copacos In Opener

By GEO. HASKETT JR.

Everybody went home happy Thursday night as the Newmarket Ladies' opened their softball season with an 8-8 tie with Barrie Copacos. Billed as an exhibition fixture, it gave promise of some exciting action-jammed struggles ahead for "the faithful". Down three runs as the last of the 7th rolled around, Newmarket girls came through with a three-run rally that tied it up. A great catch by right fielder Audrey Bowen was all that saved the visitors from defeat. At the time, the Courtney-Vanzant crew had the bases fully populated. Edna McGrath stepped in and drove a hot one into right field. It looked like a sure fire round-tripper but the alert Barrie fielder snatched it off on the fly to halt the rally.

The Newmarket squad, after an attack of the early season jitters, got into their stride in the final frames. Leading swinger on the home side was first sacker Edna McGrath who went to town with a triple, a double and a single in four trips to the platter. She drove in four runs in all. Catcher Mona Dean was going like a house afire behind the plate picking off several Barrie base-runners. Mona was also in the forefront as a slugger with a double and two singles.

Coch Vanzant showed us most of last year's regular team but came up with a new pitcher, Edith Dow. After being a little easy on the visitors in the early frames, she held them in check from there on in. Audrey McClymont handled the third base chore—did it well in fact—and wasn't the weakest hitter by any means either doubling and singling in her four appearances at the dish.

Lake Simcoe League Gets Into Action

With league president Ross Chapman on deck to officially declare navigation open on the softball lanes the Lake Simcoe circuit exploded into action last week. Vandorf opened the league at home to Brownhill. From the opening pitch till the sun went down the whole gang slugged it out with Vandorf romping home the winners by a 17-14 count. The following evening operations swung over to Queensville where Pine Orchard put the hex on the home-sters with 17-14 victory.

Mount Albert moved into Willow Beach to come home in front 5-2. Hope got themselves away on the winning trail as they clipped Queensville 16-9.

Vandorf eased out a 4-3 victory over Zephyr in another tight battle.

Calling Roy Pollock. How about some comments on the northern section tilts. Teams are reminded to send along their results and comments to Ivan Eves or Roy Pollock, league publicists. Future play includes: June 3: Willow Beach at Mount Albert, Queensville at Zephyr; June 4: Brownhill at Keswick; June 7: Hope at Zephyr; June 8: Queensville at Hope, Zephyr at Brownhill; June 9: Keswick at Pine Orchard, Vandorf at Sharon; June 10: Willow Beach at Queensville.

their products on the market and accepting what they can get. Some objectives are to pass farm marketing legislation based on the same principles as the draft national Farm Products Marketing Act proposed by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, expand crop improvement and weed control services and veterinary services, he said.

Gordon Crutcher, Newmarket, a school teacher in Toronto, said that the C.C.F. will enable equality of opportunity in education by lowering university fees. There will be research in education; the C.C.F. could provide such things as movies in schools for educational purposes. Private enterprise will not do this because there is no money in it, he said.

Lorne Paynter, president of a union at the Office Specialty, speaking on labor, said that one of Drew's 22 points stated that Ontario was to have the best labor law in Canada or the world. It was never carried out, he said. "The Leaside and Hamilton plants had no picket line trouble until the police were sent in," said Mr. Paynter.

A. H. Woods spoke on the C.C.F. health program for Ontario and what has been done in Saskatchewan. Nothing has been done to cover the clause dealing with health in Drew's 22 point program, he said. Mr. Dickman, the candidate, covered housing and civil rights. He said plans would be to build at least 20,000 low rental houses; a housing co-operative could borrow at one and a half percent to finance the project. Mentioning today's shortages, he said that people in Wetland are buying nails at Buffalo and after paying the border duties, get them cheaper than at black market prices in Canada. These nails from Buffalo, he said, are made at the steel plant in Hamilton. The C.C.F. will outlaw racial discrimination as exemplified when a girl with brown skin was refused at an Owen Sound hospital, he said.

DOWN THE CENTRE

With "Ab" Hulse

Last week we had the honor and pleasure of presenting the report of the Canadian Legion's national sports and recreation council to the biennial dominion convention of the Legion in Saskatoon. The report was received unanimously, and Canada's veterans now stand definitely committed to increased activities in the promotion of minor sports and the bettering of the physical standards of our people, as well as a healthful, recreation program for Legion members. The applause and comments, both public and private, reveal just how anxious the old sweats and new vets in every community are to play a part in the things that are worthwhile and for the good of the entire community.

From the informal discussions we would judge that close to 100,000 kids and junior athletes were either directly or indirectly aided by Legion branches across Canada. This will greatly be increased from year to year as Legion branches pay-off indebtedness on existing clubhouses, or acquire badly needed quarters for the newer branches. In many small communities the direct burden of community recreation is borne almost entirely by the Legionaires.

Western Canada is intensely sports minded and Ontario will have to look to its laurels for these westerners seem to know how to put across almost everything they tackle in the face of distances and difficulties that would force many older communities to give up the ghost. At Winnipeg, for instance, there is a real revival in lacrosse with 25 teams participating in age groups. Bronke Nagurski is the world's wrestling champion in the west and such characters as Wild Bill Longson, Whipper Watson, Lou Thesz, etc., who dominate eastern grappling, are only names. The same hokum that Frank Tunney and the eastern promoters put across is used to success in the larger cities and the fans are just as gullible.

Legs Fraser, who played goal for Ottawa Senators last winter, is back in Winnipeg and scheduled for a heavy soccer season. He guards the nets there too. Ed Slowinski, who made a great showing for New York Rangers in the N.H.L., is one of the leading baseball players. Basketball, while over here, finds summer practices scheduled and Paulsons of Winnipeg, and Vancouver Clover Leafs keeping their boys together with picnics, stags, golf, etc. At Saskatoon, Moose Jaw and Regina, there is a May schedule for junior rugby and the boys will practice steadily throughout the summer. They have their eyes trained on the future and the development of real Canadian talent. There is a tough, silent war going on between Winnipeg Blue Bombers, Regina and Calgary Bronks for senior honors as they seek reinforcements and the imports from the U.S.A. and eastern Canada players are all in the heavy sugar class. They expect a western team to win the Grey Cup come December.

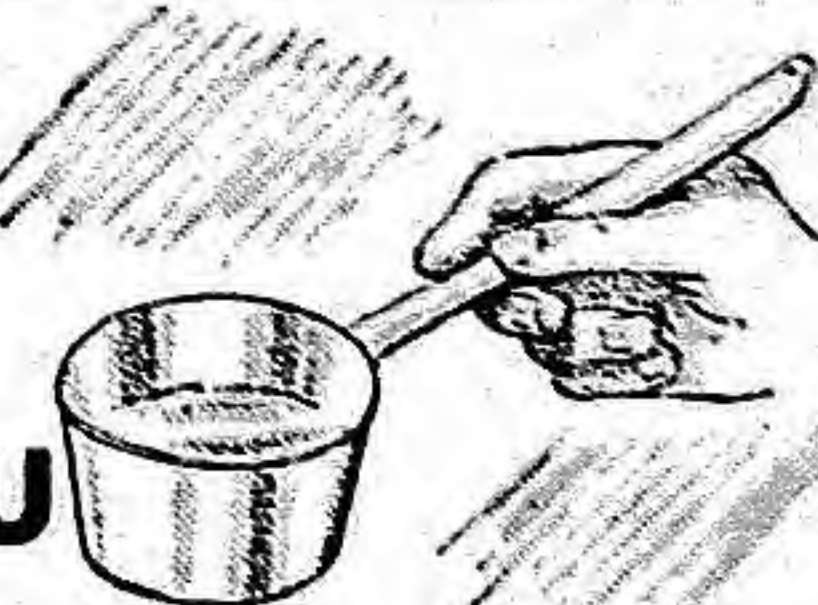

At Saskatoon we saw Doug and Max Bentley playing baseball. The two hockey stars, along with another brother, are smooth performers and heavy with the bludgeon. Max of the Leafs outfit brother Doug, but Doug on the other hand supplied some wonderful fielding. The small community of Delisle (actually they come from near-by Rostown), is able to hold its own with the Cities and the Bentleys are real drawing cards. There are flood lights in many small centres and this is really a must in the eyes of most, when, if and as electrical power is plentiful. Sunday baseball is played in many centres without any protests from the churchgoers. In some places gates are charged, but generally it's just the coffee pot. The folks in the west are as deeply religious as elsewhere and religious services are by no means interfered with, but there certainly is a different attitude in the minds and hearts of most than in Ontario where the Lord's Day Alliance Act is more strictly adhered to. (Actually in the north, in the Windsor area and the extreme east of Ontario, Sunday sports go on without any interruption from any one except for the occasional beef).

Sweeney Schriener is seeking to obtain a release from Lethbridge so that he may take over a coaching job on the Pacific coast. Threatens to retire if his wishes aren't met. Brandon, Lethbridge, Moose Jaw and Winnipeg are already scheming to upset Port Arthur in the Memorial Cup series. Lethbridge blamed the change in water and altitude plus travelling weariness for their poor showing in Maple Leaf Gardens. Edmonton Flyers' supporters, however, wouldn't concede that the same conditions might have applied when Ottawa lost in the west in the Allan Cup finals. The entire Edmonton team, with one exception, is composed of ex-servicemen and most are Edmonton Legion members (that branch only has a mere 3,000 on the rolls). The Edmonton arena holds 6,500 and there are only eight artificial ice plants between the Rockies and Port Arthur.

THE DIPPER TELLS YOU

If you fill a dipper with water and drink from it, you can see how much is left. But when you drain the balanced plant food content from soil the result isn't immediately obvious. Your overworked soil, gradually becomes exhausted, letting you down by degrees on quantity and quality of crops.

The task of restoring impoverished soil to fertility is a slow one. If you are not getting substantial yields of the best quality crops, have your soil tested by an expert. Soil testing, in experienced hands, will indicate what has to be done to restore the proper balance of plant foods, with all that this means to you through profitable farm production. The Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, will tell you how to go about this. Or you can contact your nearest experimental farm or agricultural college. The longer you allow your soil to deteriorate, the longer it will take to bring it back to normal.

This Bank has been offering the important service of money to Canadian farmers for 93 years. Our experienced manager in your district understands your problems and is willing to consider loans for purposes that will increase farm earnings.
